BITS OF HISTORY

Old newspapers are very interesting and informative sources and should not be overlooked when researching history or genealogy. Below are a few items which appeared in "THE PIKE COUNTY COURIER", a Murfreesboro newspaper, which was established in 1888 but is no longer in existence. Courthouse fires have destroyed many of Pike County, Arkansas records and newspapers may be the only available source to determine the year someone was born, married or died. The obituary of Mrs. Lon Reese, for instance, "tells" us she was born circa 1878.

The three articles which are featured in BITS OF HISTORY in this issue show the "human side" of our history. If you have clippings or other interesting stories about Pike County and its people, which have appeared in newspapers, please share them with the "THE GEMS" and we will share them with our members in upcoming issues. Your "GEMS" editors did not correct spelling or punctuation of the original "COURIER" articles. We hope you enjoy these "glimpses of the past".

The first ball game of the season, for the local boys was played at Highland last Saturday, which was won by the local team by a score of 9 to 3. Bob Gilmer, of Boto, deserves special mention for the spectacular catch that he made in left field. He was in the act of taking a "dip of Levi" with his right hand, and holding his glove in the left, when he was knocked a long fly. With snuff box in his right hand, and in the act of taking a "dip", he caught the fly ball with his left hand. Riley pitched the game to Murfreesboro.

RECEIVES "ALLIGATOR" FROM BALMY FLORIDA

J. K. Hughes, of the Stelltown settlement, was a business visitor of Murfreesboro, Monday. While here, Mr. Hughes was the center of attraction for a while, for on calling for his mail, he was handed a package that was rather bulky and suspicious looking, and upon opening it, he was surprised to find an alligator, which was sent him by some of his relatives living in Jacksonville, Fla. No doubt Mr. Hughes will keep him well preserved, and will find some use for him, on his farm.

(Your "GEMS" editors would love to know whatever became of the "CATOR", which was mailed to Mr. Hughes of Stelltown. Does anyone have any idea?)

Mrs. Lon Reese, aged 48 years, died at her home in Bingen Monday night, with pellegra. Mrs. Reese is survived by two children, Leo Reese of Bingen, and one daughter, Mrs. Roy Sullivan of Murfreesboro. The courier extends deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.
NOTES FROM YOUR EDITORS

Editor, Dee Baggett   Co-Editors, Dorothy Partain & Jan McGalliard

This issue of "THE GEMS" contains fewer pages than our last issue but with the recent holiday season, everyone was extremely busy and our time was limited. You probably/undoubtedly will find mistakes in this newsletter. If the mistakes are significant, please bring them to our attention. Your Editor has been working under the strain of trying to learn to run a new computer software program, with its many "quirks" and has "lost" several hours of work, several times, with the striking of one incorrect key! Hopefully, by the time the Spring issue of "THE GEMS" comes to you, your Editor will be a little more adept with this new program. Some of our readers may not approve of the new smaller print which was used in this newsletter because it is more difficult to read but it will allow "THE GEMS" to bring you more information in our issues.

We plan to publish at least one, twenty page newsletter in 1991 and if our budget will allow the printing and postage costs, we will have two, twenty page issues and two ten page issues. The postal service has indicated that they will have a price increase sometime after the first of February. This will mean extra expense for "THE GEMS", but our new $7.00 annual membership dues should offset the increased postage expense, at least for this year. We hope you are enjoying your "GEMS" and if you have ideas or suggestions which will improve the newsletter, please write or call. We "aim to please" and want to publish what will be of interest to you.

Many of you have written requesting information regarding the days and times The Pike County Archives is open for our members. Regrettably, PCAHS has no volunteer available to open the archives on a regular basis, therefore, our archives may be opened by appointment only. On page 10 of this newsletter, you will find information which will explain the procedure for making arrangements to visit The Pike County Archives.

THANKS TO EACH AND EVERY MEMBER FOR YOUR SUPPORT IN 1990

and

PLEASE STAY WITH US IN 1991 - WE HOPE TO BECOME EVEN BETTER

-------------------------------

PRAY FOR PEACE

There will be those, who read this paragraph, and will possibly believe this newsletter is not the "place" to express our concern for all the brave men and women in the armed forces. Perhaps you will be correct in your belief, however, we do not intend to discuss the War in the newsletter. Our only intention, is to ask that all our members pray for an early end to the hostilities and a special prayer for all our troops. If you have a loved one serving in the armed forces, please let us know so we may say a special prayer for them.

NEW GENEALOGICAL GROUP-formed

Area residents with an interest in genealogy will be delighted to learn that a new group, as yet unnamed, has been meeting on the second Thursday night of each month to exchange information and help each other with their research problems. The new group met in Glenwood at the Municipal building in November and December. The January meeting was held in the Kirby Fire Station and two of your editors, Dee Baggett and Dorothy Partain, became new members of the group. Refreshments were served and everyone had a wonderful and productive time. Until further notice, the meetings will be held in the Kirby Fire Station on the second Thursday night of each month from 6:30 pm til 9:00 pm. The next regular meeting will be held on February 14, 1991.

WE HOPE TO SEE YOU THERE!

For more information about joining this group, contact Retha ADAMS, Box 65, Kirby, AR 71950. Telephone (501) 398-4296
George Washington Fagan was born May 27, 1859, near Star of the West in Pike County, Arkansas, the son of William Thomas Fagan and wife, Catherine Frances (nee Wiley) Fagan. His brothers were Thomas J., Henry F., Francis Marion; sisters, Nancy Welch and Mary Susanna Jester.

Uncle George, as he is affectionately known by his many friends, married Miss Bell Zora Parker in 1880 on Rock Creek, in Pike County, Ark. To this union were born 10 children as follows; W. Lon, James Thomas, Delia, married Martin; John Marion; Delice, married Williamson; Jewell Calvin; Edna Murris, aged 10 years at death; Ettie, married Murphy; Henry Horace, and Annie married Williams. His wife died at Rosboro, Ark., about 1913 after a lingering illness and is buried at Coker cemetery near Rosboro.

He has a clear recollection of many events of the Civil war. He remembers the departure from home of his older brother, Tom, for the war as a Confederate soldier. Tom was wounded fighting at Atlanta, Ga., where Mat Chaney lost an arm. Brother Tom was a prisoner of war seven months at Camp Douglas, Chicago, Ill. As a result of the wound received and exposure, he died at the age of 46 and is buried at Lodi in Pike County, Ark., where his mother and brother, Francis Marion, are also buried. His father died at Memphis, Tenn., January 15, 1864 and lies sleeping in his last long dreamless sleep in Fort Picton cemetery.

Uncle George's father was over military age, but he was not in favor of secession. Danger and privation forced the family to seek haven elsewhere. The father went on ahead to Memphis, Tenn. In a short time the mother and the children left the old home place near Star of the West about October or November 1862, and went by ox wagon to Little Rock, Ark., for a short time. The trip was slow and hazardous. They broke the wagon at Kirby and stayed a day with Forga Self. Uncle George remembers playing with Cooper Self and Robert Self. Of course, the roads were awfully bad in that early day. They went by Bethel Church near Rock creek and camped nearby at Doc Jones. They went on by way of the Mazarn creek and then to Hot Springs. They camped on Alum Fork of Saline river. There Brother Marion was dressed as a girl. As he was large for his age, this disguise was used to prevent his being forced into the military service. They there met jayhawkers, who ransacked the camp for valuables but found only some jean pants and a blowing horn that they wanted and took.

On the trip from Star of the West to Little Rock, the family saw where a man by the name of Wilkerson was hung near the Sam Ward place about one or two miles west of Kirby. The man was hung by Southern guerrillas or jayhawkers on a stooping dogwood tree and is buried nearby. A man by the name of Clark was hung at the east end of the present Star of the West bridge over the Little Missouri, and also on the same night a man named Greer was hung about a mile north of the point by jayhawkers.

The family arrived at Memphis sometime later. The father soon died and the rest of the family refugees to Illinois. In contrast to conditions in Arkansas, the economic conditions there in Illinois were good. A plowboy in Illinois was worth $20 per month and a man $40.

The family left Illinois about Christmas in 1865, where it lived very well. It was at Memphis New Year's Day, 1866. The trip had cost the family about $103 from Illinois to Little Rock and it had expended its savings. The trip to Illinois had not cost them anything for transportation. Without funds at Little Rock, the brothers went to work to make a little money to get back to the old home in Pike county. July 4, 1866, they were on Main street in Little Rock and on of the wagon tires came rolling off. The trip from Illinois had been made by steamer to Little Rock.
The Fagan family arrived back at the old home at Star of the West. All were impoverished; times were hard; and the country around was stripped of provisions and food. Corn was scarce. His brothers supporting the family worked two days for a bushel of corn. Mart Hays, later of Amity, ran a water mill at Star of the West during the Civil war. Millers were exempt from military service and Mart accumulated a small fortune there by the waters of the Little Missouri.

In mature life, Uncle George farmed and supported his growing family. He and his boys carried the mail for 5 years. The last route was from Mount Ida to Cherry Hill, Ark. This is in the Lum and Abner country and this association with its people must account in part for the great enjoyment that Uncle George gets from the famous comedians’ broadcasts. All mail at that time was carried on horseback. But winter and summer, through sleet and rain, the mail went through. Uncle George was very conscientious in this work as he was in everything else and he saw to it that the people received good and efficient service. The trip one way took about a week on horse. Having to give up the public service as a mail carrier, he moved back to the mill ford on the Caddo, that magic blue river of dreams, near Rosboro, because of the failing health of the faithful wife and helpmate. Although faithfully nursed and cared for, she died sometime later and left him with a family to rear alone. The death was a tragic blow.

He was always considerate of others. He was independent and never wished to be a burden to others. He preferred to earn his own living and did so. He is always courteous and agreeable. His mind is clear although he is in his ninetyieth year. Save for failing eyesight, his health is good. This old pioneer, in whose veins courses some of the blood of the Indian, is lean and slender and the hair is still black. He was never arrested in his lifetime; and he has always supported the churches and other worthy charities, and paid his taxes. He has never remarried.

Several of the children live in the state of Washington. Annie lives at Caddo Gap, Ark.; Delia, in Oklahoma, as well as Lon. Uncle George makes annual summer visits to see these and his many relatives and friends in Arkansas. He makes his home at 1129 10th Avenue, Longview, Wash.

Our thanks to Mr. Stone for sharing this interesting article with PCAHS. Mr. Stone researches the FAGAN family of Pike County, Arkansas.

BOOK REVIEWS

PCAHS would like to express our thanks and appreciation to everyone who has donated books, family histories, and all other historical and genealogical materials. Any book or material which is for sale from PCAHS will appear on our "Publications for Sale" list in this newsletter. All proceeds of book sales go to fund projects of the society.

DESCENDANTS OF ISAAC BAREFOOT RUNYAN, written by Marie Runyan Wright and published 1980 by Gateway Press. This book, which was donated by Mrs. Wright, traces the path of the descendants of Isaac Barefoot Runyan from the Shenandoah Valley through Tennessee and Alabama on their journey westward. Many of the descendants of Isaac Barefoot Runyan eventually settled in the Clark Co., AR area. The hardcover volume, contains almost 300 well documented pages, old family photographs and has a complete index. Some of the Clark Co., AR surnames represented in this book are BEAN, CONINE, DAFFORD, DILLIARD, FEATHERSTON, GARNER, LAMBERT, MASSEY, RUNYAN/RUNYON, and many others. You may write to Marie Runyan Wright, Rt. 1 Box 7, Bonnerdale, AR 71933 regarding the price of the book or any other information about this family.

Allen B. Syler, 712 South 22nd St., Arkadelphia, AR 71923, has donated a computer print-out of his INDEX TO THE OBITUARIES FROM THE SOUTHERN STANDARD for 1869-1936 and 1974-1986. This work is gratefully accepted by PCAHS and will be invaluable because of the many connections between Clark and Pike Counties. Mr. Syler is at this time, working to close the gap between 1936 and 1974 of the Southern Standard Obituaries and has generously offered to donate a copy of this work to PCAHS, upon completion. PCAHS realizes the time and energy which was required to accomplish such a task and appreciates Mr. Syler, for preserving this part of our history and his willingness to share his material with PCAHS.

GENEALOGICAL WORKSHOP PLANNED

PCAHS has plans to invite Everton's Publishers of Logan, Utah to conduct a genealogical workshop in the spring or summer of 1991. Everton's publishes "The Genealogical Helper," a genealogical magazine dedicated to "helping more people find more genealogy." If you would be interested in attending such a workshop, please drop us a note. We will need the support of our members and the community to sponsor such a workshop. No definite date has been set at this time but watch the local newspapers for the place, time and date or write PCAHS for more details. If you do not receive a prompt reply regarding the date of the workshop it is because we do not have a definite date established. Please include a self-addressed stamped envelope if requesting any information from PCAHS. Hopefully, PCAHS will have a definite date before our Spring/1991 issue of "THE GEMS" goes to the printers and can include the date, time and place, in our Spring issue.

ABSTRACTS FROM THE PIKE COUNTY, ARKANSAS MARRIAGE RECORDS 1895-1910

Although Pike County, Arkansas was created in 1833, marriage records for the county are not available before 1895 due to courthouse fires in 1855 and 1895. To this editors knowledge, the available Pike County marriage records have not been compiled and published. However, all Pike County researchers will be happy to learn that Dorothy K. Partain has abstracted and compiled The Pike County Marriage Records from Books "A", "B", and "C", which covers the period of 1895-1910. Dorothy, with the help of member Linda Meek of Shevreport, LA has compiled the marriage records with the intention to publish and the material is at this time at the printers. "THE GEMS" will publish the price of ABSTRACTS FROM THE PIKE COUNTY, ARKANSAS MARRIAGE RECORDS in a future issue of our newsletter.
